Story of The First Christmas Told by Luke

(And in that day three shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for ensign of the people; to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious. Isa. 11:10.)

(As recorded in Luke 2:1-20)

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

On to it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them Fear not; for, behold I, bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

A Christmas Wish

*I like to think that there will be
On Christmas Day, around each tree,
A feeling of the presence of
The Child God sent us with His love;
That there, beside each girl and boy,
He'll be, and sharing in their joy.
I like to think that, all the while,
The gifts unfold, I'll see Him smile;
And that He'll hear our caroling,
And know it's for the thanks we bring
To God the Father, for His birth,
To be among us on the Earth.
O, may our Christmas time be gay
But let's remember it's His Day . . .
Let's find a place for prayer in it,
And so have Jesus share in it.*

The stable at Bethlehem, the star that led the shepherds and the Wise Men thither to do homage to the Christ Child are symbols that tell the story of the first Christmas, and are used in countless homes and churches at this season of the year. Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sterkowitz putting up a Nativity scene at their home, 6637 Ravinia drive, Tinley Park. It is all the product of the Sterkowitz. The stable, human figures, the lambs are all sawed out of wood by Mr. Sterkowitz and the painting, including the scene in the stable, was done by Mrs. Sterkowitz. There are several other pieces not shown in the picture which was taken while the couple were putting the scene together. They spent some 50 of their leisure hours in making the scene and it takes an hour to set it up. (Semmler Press Photo)

Rural Electrification Expert Addresses L-W Adult Farm Class

Prof. F. W. Andrew, associate professor of rural electrification at the University of Illinois, addressed a combined class including the adult evening group and the advanced vocational agriculture high school class at Lincoln-Way high school. He made the trip in his own plane, landing at Joliet.

Prof. Andrews works full time with farmers of the state on their individual electrical wiring problems. He has designed several automatic feed handling set-ups in this area. He also works with grain drying problems.

At the meeting he showed pictures of some good and bad farm wiring as well as some new applications of electricity. He also stressed the importance of properly grounding electrical equipment. A demonstration was given, with local participation, on the value of using motor power as compared to muscle power.

Following the discussion session, refreshments were served by the Lincoln-Way Future Homemakers of America under the sponsorship of Miss Ann Walker, Home Economics teacher.

Robert Van Rheeden, vocational agriculture teacher, reports that attendance for the series of adult class meetings was good and that interest was high.

Other Adults Classes at Lincoln-Way will finish their series of meetings in Dec. Second semester adult classes will begin on Jan. 29 and Jan. 31, following registration on Jan. 22 and 24.

For the second semester, the agriculture department will offer classes in farm welding; farm machinery operation, maintenance, and adjustment; farm tractor operation, maintenance, and adjustment. A class will be offered for those interested in the new revised Illinois farm account book.

Ice and Bike Bad Combination

Ice and bikes don't mix.

The bicycle safety committee of the Mokena public school PTA unit stressed this warning the past week and will continue to advise youngsters to this effect while winter lasts.

"Unless it is absolutely necessary, do not ride your bikes on snow or ice," was the gist of the message given to youngsters by Mrs. Albert Janner, chairman of the bicycle safety committee.

"A fall from a skidding bicycle can be serious enough in itself," Mrs. Janner continued, but imagine the consequences if bike and a passing auto both skid at the same time.

"There have been many serious accidents of this type, as a result of which the injured have spent many days and nights in a hospital, away from home and loved ones.

"Let's practice our safety rules at all times and relieve mother and dad of a lot of worry."

The committee also reminded youngsters that bicycles are considered vehicles and are required to follow traffic rules. Cyclists should ride on the right side of a street or highway and without a passenger on the handlebars or rear rack. When used at night bicycles should carry lights, in front and behind.

There are also many other uses, including relief in cases where persons experience difficulty in breathing.

The department now has a number of men qualified to operate the inhalator and a telephone call will summon it to any home in the area. The telephone number is Mokena 2121.

Asks People to Send in Money for Christmas Seals

Persons who have not yet sent in money for the Christmas seals they have received are asked to attend to this bit of business as soon as possible by those in charge of the campaign. The Will County Tuberculosis Association reported some $23,000 has been raised up to the early part of the week. This is less than had been subscribed up to the corresponding time last year, it was stated.

Returns from Frankfort and New Lenox townships as of this week are respectively $625.25 and $525.

The very air is filled with the Christmas spirit and the arrival of Santa on an early visit to Mokena is expected to draw a large crowd to the community tree on Front street tomorrow evening.

Residents of both Mokena and Frankfort are busy too with putting the last finishing touches on home decorations.

Each year prizes are awarded to householders whose decorative skills are found to be the best. In Frankfort the first prize is $25, the second $15 and the third is $10. The scale in Mokena is a bit lower—$15, $10 and $5.

The Frankfort contest is being staged under the auspices of the Lions club of that community while the one in Mokena is fostered by the Civic Association.

The judging will take place in both communities tomorrow night, Dec. 21, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Besides the prizes there will be honorable mention made.

Reim Sole Operator of Hardware Store At New Lenox

To clarify the record relative to the purchase of the hardware interests of the Welsh Lumber and Supply Co., at New Lenox, the Eugen Staehling and Fred Staehling mentioned in the original account as associates of the purchaser, Raymond Reim, will have no connection with the business.

They do not have any investment in the firm, a fact that was set forth previously, nor will they have any part in its operation. While Mr. Reim was negotiating for the purchase of the business the Staehlings, with whom he had formerly worked, served him in an advisory capacity.

Reim will operate the hardware business at New Lenox, but the Welsh company will continue to operate its lumber yard there as well as its yard and building supply business in Mokena.

At a recent special meeting of the Homer Community school board, which was attended by Supt. Crackel, Architect Healy and Atty. Paul McKeown, Mr. Healy presented a plan which calls for five finished class rooms with space for three more as well as rest rooms, offices and heat plant room. At this meeting it was planned to call a public meeting at the town hall the evening of Jan. 10, so that everyone may have a chance to hear the plans before the date is set for voting on the site, as well as the appropriation for building funds. Crackel, Healy and McKeown will also attend this meeting to explain the plans from all angles—educational, architectural and legal. It is hoped that Homer people will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn the details of their new school.

Mokena Grade Fives Keep Record Clear, Take Two From Troy

The Mokena grade school basketball teams scored another double win last Friday night for their third in a row. The victories last week were over Troy.

The lightweights, who won the DesPlaines Valley conference championship last year, disposed of Troy in decisive fashion, 48 to 5 while the Mokena heavies won 54 to 18.

These triumphs left Mokena leading the conference in both divisions with all wins and no defeats.

No games will be played during the Christmas vacation. Mokena teams will play their next tilts Jan. 3, at home. They will be hosts to New Lenox.

Troy had been in the conference before but had dropped out for a couple of years. Now it is back in the league.

The week previous Mokena teams were in low scoring contest, but last Friday, the Meteors and Meteorites weren't having any of that. Both squads, which are coached by Jim Wrath, opened up with fine first quarters. The Meteorites passing was extremely sharp, especially that of Capt. Mark Muehler who passed numerous shots to feed a mate in better position.

Troy scored but two buckets in the lightweight game, both baskets coming in the first period which wound up with Mokena on top of a 11 to 4 count.

The Meteorites piled up 17 more points in the second frame to put the game on ice. Sheridan scored five baskets to pace this outburst. He also led in total scoring with 19 points, followed by Johnson's 12 and Muehler's 10.

In the Heavyweight contest Capt. Krubich poured in seven buckets for the Meteors in the first quarter. The period ended with Mokena leading 24 to 4. Wrath had his first string on the bench in the second and third periods but they were still on the beam when they returned to the fray in the final frame. Krubich scored 13 more points to bring his game total to 27. Yunker scored 10 points and Morris nine.

They saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him. (Matthew 2:11.)

We had set up our creche on the low bookcase by the picture window. As packages arrived, we laid them near the creche. One morning I noticed that the packages had become so numerous that they were beginning to hide the small manger scene.

I called the children and said, "I wonder if we see what is happening." They did see and quickly began to plan and rearrange so that the tiny baby again had his proper place of prominence.

Do we see what is happening to us when we allow the hectic round of activities that we have come to associate with Christmas to crowd Christ out of our hearts and homes? Dreading the shopping, gift-wrapping, and card-sending, cleaning, baking, and entertaining, one mother signed, "I'll be glad when it's over."

On a loved one's birthday we honor him and find ways to express our love for him. Let us likewise hold in highest place and count it all joy to show our love for Christ on His birthday.

PRAYER

O Christ, I would make room in my heart for Thee. Cast out my sin and so make my heart a habitation wherein Thou canst dwell, honored and loved. Help me to allow nothing to separate me from love and fellowship with Thee. Amen.

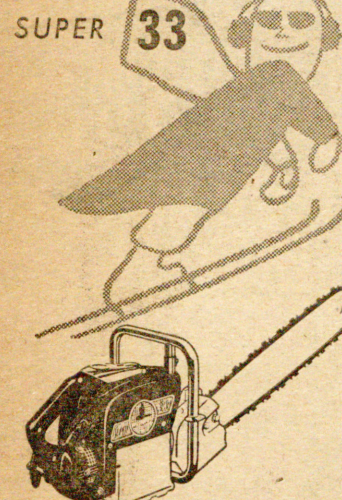

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Today I will honor Him whose coming gives hope and brings joy to the heart of man.

A number of leading citizens in the Lincoln-Way school district have already registered for the investment course which will be offered during the second semester. The course will be taught by Maurice P. Angland, of Reynolds & Co., Chicago, who is a resident of Mokena, and writes

Most Children Want Simpler Type of Gifts

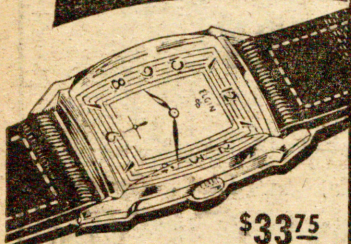

An early report from Santa reassures the fact that our younger generation isn't too much fazed by this electronic world in which we live today.

Although some precocious youngsters ask for the outlandish in toys when they write to Santa, the majority still request the old standbys—such things as red wagons, tricycles, balls and gloves for the boys and dolls and such for the girls.

It is indeed reassuring in this modern age to know that children still find security and happiness in the simpler things of life, the things that pleased us most when we were children ourselves.

The course will include a general analysis of securities and stock market practices. During the course a close watch will be kept on the general economic conditions of the world and attention will be given to a diagnosis of both national and international economic conditions. Orland Methodist Church Scene Of Collins-Powell Nuptials

The Orland Park Methodist church was the scene of a beautiful wedding Saturday, Dec. 15, when Rosemary Collins, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wheeler, of Orland Park, and Gordon M. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Powell, of Palos Park, were united in marriage at a candlelight double ring ceremony. The Rev. Robert Plastow officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Wilbur Lang. Her waltz-length gown was of brocade ivory satin. It had a Queen Anne neckline and full skirt with pleated insert. The finger tip veil was caught with a beaded Juliette cap of pearls and sequins. She wore a pearl necklace and carried a stephanotis bouquet, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Diane Glahn, of Rowayton, Conn., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Beverly Wolske, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both were attired in blue velvet street length princess style dresses with bows of the same material, centered with a rhinestone pin, over the left shoulder. They wore white feathered hats and carried white fur muffs with rhinestone pins, a gift of the bride.

Henry Woske, brother in law of the groom, served as best man. Robert Town, of Orland, and Howard Braasch, of Palos, were the ushers. The men wore gray business suits and had white carnation boutonniers.

Mrs. Alma Rauch of Joliet was the organist and Royal Glahn, of Hinsdale, sang "Because" and "Oh Perfect Love."

Mrs. Thomas Wheeler wore a dusty rose lace dress, with hat to match. The accessories were white. Mrs. Gordon Powell, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue crepe dress with blue accessories. Their corsages were white mums.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for 100 guests. The bride's high school classmates served punch and cake.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to the Southern states for about two weeks. Upon their return, they will make their home at 2828 Lombard, Berwyn.

Out of town guests were from Connecticut, Joliet, Blue Island, Frankfort, Mokena, Tinley Park, Palos Park, Palos Heights, Chicago, Hinsdale, Worth, Rockford and Berwyn.

The bride is a graduate of Carl Sandburg High school and attended Silver Cross hospital school of Nursing for the past 15 months.

The groom is employed by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Those investors seeking a high degree of safety and a good return on their investment, should investigate the gas and electric utility shares.

Year after year the shares of gas and electric companies have led in stability of market price earnings and dividends. Their gains have been slow but steady. The New York Stock Exchange has reported that over the last 10 years, about 70 percent of all utilities listed, have increased their dividends. On the basis of dividend return on investment, the utilities have exceeded the average of Stock Exchange dividend payers.

It is hard to realize how dependent we have become on a continuous and reliable source of electric energy. Not so many years ago the electric utility was referred to as the "light company" and the term was more or less an accurate description. A very large portion of the electric load was used for illumination. This meant that the electric company must have generation equipment and transmission facilities to take care of a peak load that would start at about five in the evening and continue to late evening. The load naturally was heavier in the winter than the summer.

Today many utilities serving metropolitan areas, have a heavier load in the summer than they do in the winter. Considerable of this is, of course, due to air conditioning. Most people probably do not realize it, but their own investment in electric equipment, is greater than the electric company's investment on a 'per customer' basis. Electricity companies have been working on a combination of air conditioning and heating by electricity which will add considerable to the use of electricity. Utilities have been working on this combination air conditioning and heating arrangement so that the householder will have a monthly billing of as little as fifty dollars to achieve this objective.

The so-called 'light poles' usually are carried on the utility books as having a life of around 20 years. To carry a heavier load, the utility can often merely increase the size of the wire used and even increase the number of strands of wire carried.

The above, of course, does not show the tremendous rate of increased electricity usage by commercial and industrial customers. Increased wages demand a greater output per man hour and this can only be achieved thru greater and greater use of machinery. Demand for electric service has about doubled every 10 years and as our standard of living advances, this rate of increase is stepped up.

The following is a partial list of utility common stocks on which the rate of dividend return at the current market prices, range from 4½ to 5 3/4 percent:

Commonwealth Edison, Columbia Gas System, California Electric, Consolidated Edison, Detroit Edison, Duquesne Light,

Illinois Power, Iowa Electric Light & Power, New England Electric, New York State Electric & Gas, Northern State Power, Pacific Gas & Electric, Pennsylvania Power & Light, Philadelphia Electric, Rochester Gas & Electric, Southern California

Edison, Toledo Edison, Union Electric, and many others..

Rich, Reavis Beat Sandburg Five

Rockets Win 76 to 59; Knights Split Pair of League Eagles Drop Second Contest 58 to 57

Sandburg high school's varsity basketball team saw their hopes for a conference championship fade last week end when it lost two games, one to Rich, 76 to 59 on Friday night, and the other—a heartbreaker—to Reavis on Saturday 58 to 57.

Rich, which has dominated the basketball field in the South-west Suburban conference, blasted out a 33 to 18 lead at half time and added 26 more points the third period to lead 59-34. Sandburg outscored the victors in the last quarter, 25 to 17 but the pardon came too late.

Pradin, who starts as a guard, was top scorer for Rich with 27 points, and Erickson, a guard for Sandburg was next with 25 counters.

In the Reavis game Sandburg led at half time, having made 17 in the first quarter to Reavis' 18 and 16 points in the second period to 10 by Reavis. Reavis, however, counted 18 points in the third frame to 10 for the Eagles, so when the period ended Reavis was on top 46 to 43.

The Eagles outscored the victors in the last quarter, 14 to 12, but that left them one point shy in the final count.

Marten and Ford, guards, led the scoring for Sandburg with 12 each. High point man for Reavis was Stanick with 21.

Lincoln-Way varsity basketball had a split in the two conference, tilts played last week-end. On Friday night the Knights downed Bremen in a heart-stopper, 50-49 but on the next evening the Rich Rockets dispatched the Lincolns 73-41.

With these returns in Lincoln-Way has two conference wins to its credit as opposed to two league losses.

The Knights trailed Bremen by four points at the close of the first quarter and had cut the margin to one at half time when the score stood Bremen 24, Lincoln-Way 23. In the third frame the Knights made 14 points to Bremen's nine to make the count, 37-33. The Midlothian crew outscored the victors in the last period, 16 to 13 but that left Lincoln-Way with a one point margin when the game ended and one point is as good as a hundred.

High scorers were Morris Wade of Lincoln-Way and Hartwig of Bremen with 15 points each.

The game with Rich followed the usual pattern that games do when the Rockets are involved. The Rockets started making baskets at the beginning and were still doing the same at the end. The first period saw the score the tightest, 10 to 16 for Rich.

At half time the count was 31-23 and at the close of the third quarter L-W was still within striking distance, 46 to 35. But in the final period the Rich Rockets went into passing gear and piled up 27 points while holding the Knights to 6 so the final score was Rich 73 and Lincoln-Way 41.

Pradin of Rich was high point man with 19. Teammate, Tanis was next with 17 points.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

"Snowflake Serenade" is the annual Christmas dance sponsored by the Student Council. It is to be given at the school Saturday night, Dec. 22. The chairman of the dance, Marilyn Sayers, is promising an enjoyable evening. Jim Anderson, chairman of the decorations committee has done a great deal of work in the decorations which will add to the enjoyment that evening.

The dance is semi-formal which usually indicates at Lincoln-Way that the girls wear a party dress and the boys a suit. For the girls there are also flowers.

Highlighting the evening will be the announcement of the queen and her court. Voting will be held the evening of the dance.

The Student Council urges students and alumni to get their tickets in advance. At least one member of a couple must be a student at Lincoln-Way or an alumnus.

All Lincoln-Way alumni are invited to attend the Snowflake Serenade. The party is to run from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from any Student Council member at the school office. No tickets will be sold at the door on the night of the dance.

If any alumnus' date who has no connection with Lincoln-Way wishes to attend, he must be registered at the office as a guest of a Lincoln-Way student.

If any additional information is desired, it may be obtained by calling the office at Lincoln-Way.

ATTEND GRAIN SHOW

F.F.A. boys took several prizes at the Grain Show held Dec. 8 at Manteno, in which twenty-five schools from Section 10 participated. Entries were field corn, oats, soybeans, and popcorn. Larry Francis received two first-place ribbons, while Jim Gast, James Hobbs, and Harry Johnson each took one. Seconds were awarded to Ron Steinberg, Charles ark for two entries, and Ken Zitter for two entries.

CLASS NOTES

Biology classes utilized the many snakes and turtles they had accumulated in a laboratory exercise in connection with the unit on reptiles they are now studying. Meanwhile, they are collecting rats, rats, and more rats destined for individual experimentation and projects.

English III and IV classes had an opportunity to see Sir Laurence Olivier's HAMLET which was presented on television Dec. 13 and 14.

Plane geometry classes journeyed to the Museum of Science and Industry Dec. 13 to see the recently opened exhibit on mathematics.

Social studies classes are preparing an exhibit of individual projects which the students completed for a unit on safety. Models of super highways, new safety devices for the highways, and layouts for communities are a few of the exhibits.

PTA News

New Lenox Unit

"Christmas In Other Lands" was the theme for the program at the New Lenox PTA meeting last Tuesday night, in the grade school auditorium. The program was presented by the children of the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grades. "Oh Holy Night" was sung by Mrs. George Martin.

The business meeting followed the program. Mrs. Donna Kruck, membership chairman announced nine new members making a total of 323 members.

Mrs. Earl Ullrich, budget and finance chairman announced that the PTA will sponsor another square dance Saturday night, Jan. 19 at 8:30 in the Haven auditorium. There will be a small admission and a $10 prize. Committee chairman for the square dance is Mrs. Gerald Schreffler, tickets; and Mrs. Robert Sproat, decorations. Refreshments will be served by the 6th grade mothers with Mrs. Hunter Chapman as chairman. Llew Eggers is chairman of the clean-up committee.

Harry Fox, Bus committee chairman, announced that the bus fund is now in good standing. Mrs. Frazer thanked all who worked at the luncheon sponsored by the bus committee.

John Oster, superintendent, explained the need for four more class rooms and a multi-purpose room. He stressed the need for the money to build the new rooms. The bond election is to be held Saturday. The PTA urges a Yes vote to both questions. Transportation for voting can be had by calling 8103.

Mr. Eggers asked that all members support the March of Dimes fund drive. Room count was won by Mrs. Davies' 3rd grade room with 139.

Dessert-coffee was served by the sixth grade mothers.

ANN RUTLEDGE UNIT

The monthly meeting of the Ann Rutledge PTA was held Dec. 10 at the school in Lincoln Estates. Mrs. Donald Bail, president, presided.

After a short business meeting the annual Christmas party was held. The gifts brought for the school's kitchen were opened by PTA members and displayed on a large table.

Mrs. Tom Dyke and Leonard Cummings had charge of the fun program which included community singing, games and skits. After a wonderful evening of fun, refreshments were served by Mrs. Stanley Balsie, Mrs. G. H. Kaehler, Mrs. P. J. Kluth and Mrs. Lawrence Weston.

Nikemen Display Stage Talent

Five enlisted personnel of the Alfa Battery of the 13th AAA MSL BN, NIKE installation in Orland, recently appeared in a play "The Tender Trap" at the York Community school auditorium in Lombard.

The Nikemen were invited to audition for the play by the Naperville Community theater, who presented it. They did so well in the auditions that Pvt. Robert S. Weiner was chosen for the leading role as Charlie Reader and Pvt. Joseph W. Smart, Jr., played the role of Earl Lindquist. Three other members of ALFA Battery played small parts and assisted in set decorations.

The play was so successful that the Nikemen are now being auditioned for another play, called "The Night of January 16" a murder mystery in which the audience will participate by election of a jury from among them.

The play will commence on Feb. 14, the ending depending upon the outcome of the jury's verdict.

This play is also being sponsored by the Naperville Community theater, the receipts of which will be given to charity.

The proceeds of "The Tender Trap" which amounted to more than $2,000 was presented to the Western Suburban schools for retarded children.

Holidays to Make Change in Deadlines

Because of the Christmas falling on Tuesday of next week, deadlines for advertisements and news will be moved up a day. Hence tomorrow, Friday, will be the same as our Mondays in normal weeks. The same situation will prevail the following week because of New Year's.

"Don't be a Christmas litter bug, safety experts advise. Dispose of Christmas wrapping paper carefully and quickly after gifts are opened. A gaily decorated carton or metal trash can should be handy when gifts are unwrapped and will help keep wrappings under control. The

Pointed Toys Endanger Eyes, ISPB Cautions

"Christmas should bring many new and fascinating toys and games to children this year. Parents can help in the full enjoyment of them and should use great care in their selection. Supervision of play is especially important. Throwing sharp toys or aiming guns at one's playmates is a careless and dangerous act which children should be taught not to do at an early age. Many eyes are needlessly injured thru acts such as these", said Frank H. Woods, President of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, today.

Woods said further, "Unsupervised play among children of school age in the United States accounts for 100,000 eye injuries requiring medical attention each year. Of these at least 1200 children lose an eye.

"Eye accidents among children occur most frequently during unsupervised sports or play. Boys account for three out of every four. Bows and arrows, pointed sticks and air rifles are among the worst offenders. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Teach children safety. But if mishaps do occur, remember that the external appearance is no sure indication of the real damage to the eye. Neither is the amount of pain. In the case of eye injury, a medical eye specialist should be consulted at once. Don't try to treat the eye yourself."

The Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness founded in 1916 has headquarters at 203 N Wabash Ave., Chicago 1. The work of the Society is supported entirely by voluntary contributions.

Today there are 67 percent more children under five years of age than there were in 1940, and the number of births in 1955 reached 4,200,000 against 2,538,000 in 1940. By accepting good advice, you're increasing your own ability.

Gifts That Sparkle Add to Holiday Joy

Attractive gifts under a Christmas tree add as much sparkle to the holidays as decorations on the tree.

Plastic foam has unlimited use on packages. A boot three inches high, cut from one-inch-thick plastic foam makes a nice decoration for children's packages.

Brush the boot with shellac and sprinkle red glitter on the wet shellac. Then glue a collar 2 inches thick by 1½ inches high on the boot.

You can make a wagon from a rectangular box by cutting wagon wheels and a tongue from ¾-inch plastic foam. Edge the wheels and tongue with pipe cleaners and glue them to the package.

For a three-dimensional look, cut a picture from an old Christmas card. Make paper strips ½-inch by 2 inches and pleat them. Attach the picture to the package by gluing one end of the strip to the picture and the other end to the package.

Old fashioned but still from the heart—best wishes from us to you—for all year through.

Poinsettia Plant Can Be Kept for Next Christmas

The poinsettia, long a most popular Christmas plant, is one of a group of plants known as short day plants because it will bloom only in the season of the year with the shortest day length periods, preferably 10 hours or less. That is why it is always in bloom during the Christmas season and not during the summer.

The so-called blooms are really leafy bracts which color up a brilliant red. The true flowers are the small insignificant yellowish cups found in the center of the whorl of red bracts.

Poinsettias require regular watering—every day if necessary—but not excessive watering. They should be placed where they will get a maximum amount of daylight and sunshine. Day temperatures should be about 70-72 degrees and night temperatures should never be allowed to drop below 60 degrees.

Your poinsettia need not be discarded after the holiday season is over. To keep your plant until next year, place it in the basement or some other dry place, where there is no danger of it freezing. Water it very little, if at all, allowing the soil to dry up. Next May bring the plant out, cut the stem back about two-thirds, wash the old soil off the roots and re-pot in new soil. Softwood cuttings taken in July and rooted will give you good Christmas blooms.

Greetings

May the Christmas season hold complete happiness for you.

Holiday Spirit Dies Too Quickly

With all the excitement and hustle that precedes Christmas, it often happens that the day after Christmas is an anti-climax. It shouldn't be, although many new toys will already be broken, a few are certain to be disappointed because they didn't get what they really wanted from Santa—and, of course, there are bills that must be paid.

Yet, it isn't quite right to put Christmas so far behind us when December 26th arrives. There are many things that can and should be done to keep the Christmas spirit alive. This is the time for everyone in the family to write thank-you notes. Writing at once to acknowledge a gift serves two purposes. The giver appreciates such prompt thoughtfulness and it's always much easier to write a thank-you note promptly than to keep putting it off.

The day after Christmas is also a good time to start taking memos that will help make the next celebration of the holiday a greater event. And, before discarding those Christmas cards and letters, be sure that your address book is up to date.

Take a look around you at some of the gifts your friends received—and you may get some idea that will help you do a better shopping job for upcoming birthdays, anniversaries, and for the next Christmas, which on December 26th, is less than a year away.

first movie shown and the dairymen got "inside" information on the workings of the rumen—the largest compartment of the cow's stomach.

The next feature was a panel on Forage Production and Management Practices. Ray Bernard, of Mokena, discussed hay crushing, Ed Moore, of Manhattan, spoke on chopping hay, Matt Homerding, of Frankfort, on rotational pasture, and Heinz Sewing, of Elwood, grass silage and green chopping. A. A. Wicklein, farm adviser, spoke on artificial breeding in Will county. Alden Hickman, assistant farm adviser, acted as chairman.

After lunch a film on milking practices was shown. Then Hickman gave reports on latest research at the U. of I. and had the dairymen calculate rations to meet the needs at lowest cost. A short dairy quiz was given and a period of questions and discussion followed. Several attendance prizes were given.

"Next year it is hoped that the program will be bigger and better," Hickman said. It is hoped, too, that Will county dairymen can do their job a little better as a result of the dairy feeding school.

Information was given on the new testing program — weigh-a-day-month. Under this program the dairy farmer weighs his milk once a month and records the information on sheets furnished to him. He receives a record of milk production and feed costs from which he may cull his herd, choose replacements, and also feed according to production. The cost of this program will be approximately 60 cents per cow, per year. Anyone interested may contact Mr. Hickman, assistant farm adviser.

Why Down Chimney?

Why is Santa pictured as coming down the chimney? One story goes back to pre-Christian Germany and Hertha, goddess of the home. At the winter solstice, which as about the time of Christmas, families kindled a fire of fir boughs inside their homes, and the goddess supposedly descended through the smoke to bring them good luck.

The legend carried over into old England, where Santa was credited with coming down the chimney to clean it of soot so good luck could come in.

Family Court Seeks Ways to Lighten Duties

(CNS)—Family court officials urge that Chicago and suburban police forces handle minor juvenile delinquency problems locally instead of sending the offenders to family court.

The suggestions came from family court Judge Wendell Green and the court's chief probation officer Ralph J. Riley.

Riley and Judge Green made their suggestions at a county board budget hearing.

They also urged that probation officers get pay increases and said that 41 per cent have quit during the past year because they had to many cases and were getting less pay than they could receive elsewhere.

There are now 203 probation officers and another 14 are sought.

Probation officers get from $265 a month for trainees to $355. Riley asked an increase to a range of $275 to $400.

Riley said there is a growing tendency to pass minor cases to the court which is already overburdened. He said that during the past 12 months the court handled 13,700 cases.

In his criticism of the police Riley commented, "in some instances, especially of officials of small villages where everybody knows everybody else, the officials lack the courage to straighten out juvenile and family problems because they figure it might embarrass them."

"We must educate these officials to the evils of passing the lesser cases on to us."

They Say . . .

Highlights Of Farm Life

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

The nice weather of last week brought the plow out of the machine shed and into active use. In this area where fall plowing is the rule, farmers were glad to turn a few more furrows before winter starts in earnest.

Of course, tillage is only one factor in crop production. Fertility is a very important factor. Soil tests will tell you how much fertilizer to apply. Have you had your soil tested recently?

Fertilizer prices are often lower in the fall and winter than in the spring. You may want to consider buying your fertilizers now for use next spring.

The economic phase of the farming operation looms larger now than ever before. On many Illinois farms a man working the year around is backed by $75,000 to $100,000 worth of production investments.

Farming is bigger business than most people realize. To show a fair return on these huge capital investments, farmers have to be just as efficient in operating their land as any manufacturer in operating his factory.

Accurate records are important. Have you a copy of the Illinois Farm Record Book compiled by the agricultural economics department, University of Illinois? Copies are available at my office in Tinley Park.

Bill Lorenz, Chicago Heights, was named one of the top winners in the Central region of the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association. The award was for vegetable production for fresh market. Bill sells his vegetables from an attractive roadside stand in front of his home on Glenwood Dyer road near the expressway.

He also placed third in the state in canning crop production. The award is a trip to the Illinois Canners school in Urbana.

Bill is attending the NJVGA annual convention in Atlanta, Ga., this week.

Bill is a member of the Glenwood Aces 4H club. His leaders are Henry Veldhuizen, Glenwood, and Edwin Lorenz, Chicago Heights.

A study of more than 60 farm tractors over the past several years by agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois show that valve rotators will lengthen the life of tractor valves so that they will last as long as pistons and rings.

Essentially these rotators—about the size of a quarter—are two steel rings that fit over the valve guide and rotate freely on ball bearings. Rotation keeps the valve stems clean and protects the face of the valves against damage from hot spots.

The use of rotators means that farmers can now schedule major overhauls on their tractors during a slack period. They no longer need to interrupt a busy season to clean out sticky valves and overhaul tractor engines.

Tenants and landlords will have an equal interest in using fertilizers if the cost is shared in the same way as the crop is shared. This method applies also to the cost of bulk fertilizers spread by custom operators.

Ear corn stored at 20 percent moisture in November may easily lose 8.0 percent in weight by the following August as a result of natural drying.

Traditions And Customs Of Christmas

BY ROBERT MANN
Conservation Editor

Christmas, during the last 100 years, has become a national holiday—our greatest festival—with symbols, customs and ceremonies introduced by people from many foreign countries. Some of those stem from ancient pagan festivals celebrating the winter solstice and the new "birth of the sun", but Christmas now a religious observance of the birthday of Jesus Christ. It is also a day of family gatherings with traditions of their own, and above all, the day of days for their children. During pioneer times in the Middle West, according to letters and diaries, Christmas did not amount to much. Gifts to children if any, were homemade and mostly practical. They did not have a Christmas tree. Santa was unheard of.

The Santa Claus legend has an interesting history. During the 4th century there was a Bishop Nicholas, in Asia Minor, who became a saint regarded as the special friends and protector of children. Today, in several northern European countries, he "appears" in the eve of his feast day, Dec. 6. In Holland, children place their wooden shoes or hang their stockings by the fireplace or in a window and fill them with hay for the saint's white horse. While they sleep, he comes with gifts for the good children and switches for the bad ones. In Germany they also believe in St. Nickolas but that the gifts are distributed on Christmas Eve by Kris Kringle—an abbreviation of Kristkindlein, the Christ child.

The fun-loving Dutch colonists who settled New Amsterdam, now New York, brought their customs with them. Their name for St. Nicholas became abbreviated to Sint Klaas, or Sant Klaus, and in James Fenimore Cooper's novel, the Pioneer (1823), we find the first known mention of Santa Claus. In 1822, Clement Clarke Moore wrote his famous poem. A Visit From St. Nicholas, which begins with "Twas the night before Christmas." There is no mention of Santa Claus or a Christmas tree but it describes St. Nick and told of his coming in a sleigh drawn by eight reindeer named Dasher, Dancer, Prancer and Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner and Blitzen.

Apparently that poem inspired one of the greatest cartoonists in this country: Thomas Nash, who originated the Democratic donkey, the Republican elephant and the Tammany tiger as political symbols. From 1863 until his death in 1902, in Harper's Weekly and other magazines and newspapers, Nash popularized the jolly old fat character we all know as Santa Claus.

The Christmas tree originated as a German custom dating back to Medieval times. Until about 1900 in many communities of central and northern Illinois—except for a few families that used an oak sapling—nobody had a Christmas tree because there were no native pines or cedars. In Chicago, a Christmas tree business started in December, 1887, when Herman and August Schuenemann sailed a fishing schooner into the Chicago river and tied up at the Clark St. bridge with a load of young spruce trees from the Michigan forests. After that, year after year, Chicago folks would come to select and carry home a tree from the "Christmas Ship." In 1898, August and the ship were lost in a storm but, next Christmas, ruddy-faced Herman was back with a new boat. In 1912 that boat disappeared with Herman and his crew of 17 men, during a blizzard on Lake Michigan. Then, until 1933, Herman's wife took over and brought the Christmas ship down to Chicago.

The central theme of Christmas, as always, is: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

One thousand seventeen or 30 per cent of the 3,939 undergraduate women at the University of Illinois are enrolled in teacher-education programs of the college of education and the college of liberal arts and sciences.

MEMO TO MOMS—

Kids get their socks mixed up? Devise a color code: blue for Sue, black for Jack, Red for Ted, and sew a few of the proper stitches in the toes. No more arguments.

Just as vari-colored Christmas tree lights add to the Christmas spirit in practically every American home, so does flickering candlelight add to the enjoyment of holiday decorations.

This year's candles take on a glitter and sparkle to go with their glow. Tall or short, fat or slim, all candles lend themselves to jewelry. And here, as with other Christmas decorations its the "doing" that increases the fun and deepens the joy.

Popular on Christmas shopping lists this year are trim-a-candle kits which "do-it-yourself" fans can use to transform plain-Janes of candleland into tapers of striking loveliness which may be used for home decorations or gifts.

The kits' contents include glitter, spangles of infinite shapes and colors, pearls, sequins, stars and hollow beads.

We hope the year will be a prosperous one.

Officials Ask For More Money To Run County

(CNS)—State's attorney Benjamin Adamowski informed the county board that there will be no more special attorneys for county officers and departments nor more "clerks with legal knowledge."

"The state's attorney is the legal representative for all county officers and none other can do legal work for the county, under any name," said the new prosecutor in a personal appearance before the annual budget hearing.

After the meeting, Mr. Adamowski said the rule does not apply to A. L. Hornick, veteran administrative assistant to the president of the county board. His authority comes from a special law providing a lawyer for conducting liquor license hearings.

Mr. Adamowski asked for a 1957 budget of $1,634,346, an increase of $49,885, largely resulting from a request for four "investigators" at $10,000 a year. Finance Chairman, John Duffy said added employees would have to be approved by the circuit court judges' committee on help.

cuit court judges' committee on help.

Sheriff Joseph Lohman asked for 228 more employees than his present 980, including 133 more highway policemen and 57 more county jail guards. His budget request was $6,875,833, an increase of $1,828,234.

Included was an item of $175,000 for a new guard tower in the county jail. Chairman Duffy advised this be submitted for a planned bond issue for county buildings and remodeling.

Coroner Walter McCarron asked eight more than his present 50 employees, including four pathologists, three deputy investigators, and one administrative aid. This would make his budget $431,620, an increase of $88,680.

Finance Chairman Duffy summed up the board's problem by saying: "We've got $10 million in requests, but only $1,000,000 more than last year to distribute."

Record Club At Infirmary Growing Fast

A Record club—phonograph—has been initiated for patients of Oak Forest Institution under the direction of volunteers, Mrs. Elizabeth Gaskins, and Mrs. Emma Thornton, both of Chicago.

Attracted by the casual air and diversion from hospital routine, the second session grew from the 10 patients, who had requested the platter party, to 49.

Selections vary from rock and roll to the classics.

When a Polish Hop drew several ambulatory patients to their feet, volunteer directors don't think it will be long before the Record club is calling for square dancing!

Initial response points to the use of the records as effectual therapy.

During the holidays Oak Forest Volunteers plan to roll the records to the wards where the patients confined to their beds can enjoy Christmas music.

Most experts expect a booming adult toy market to make this a record year for manufacturers and sellers of toys and games. For several years, toy makers have been catering to the hobbyist and the "over 65" age group and now they find themselves with a toy market that is brisk at both ends of the age group.

Today's adult who works, and the elder who has retired, have plenty of leisure time on their hands and each year hundreds take up such hobbies as miniature shipbuilding, model railroading, or the less strenuous word or card games.

Some of the grown-up items on the market for the last year's top toy selling Christmas season included a $10 scale model kit of the liner S.S. United States, "HO" gauge electric trains, model power boats, pool tables, shuffleboard sets, and an endless list of word games.

Biggest volume item in the adult toy field are the word games and the increased popularity has been so marked that within the past year two manufacturers doubled their plant capacity for producing games.

The toy makers have no intention of forgetting the nearly 50 million youngsters under 14 who are their principal market, but they are cultivating the "over 65" group—and their reasoning is simply that the older age group has more money to spend and is more interested in finding ways to occupy time.

Some manufacturers of "do-it-yourself" tools and gadgets are cashing in on the adult toy market by putting models of their products on the toy counters. Among items in this category last Christmas were a "mobile" loudspeaker, an intercom set, and a hand drill. Plenty of these were sold to grown-ups who put them to practical use.

Tells of Bermuda Trip

Miss Betty Woodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Woodman has returned from an enjoyable and exciting trip to Bermuda, which was sponsored by the Chicago Motor club, at whose travel offices, Miss Woodman is employed. With Miss Caryl Frederick of Joliet who is employed by the Henley Travel agency, who also sponsored her trip, the girls left from Chicago for New York Nov. 21. They stayed overnight in New York, and flew to Bermuda on Thanksgiving Day. They had the pleasure as did the other passengers, of the company of Arlene Francis, a panel member of the TV show, "What's My Line", and had dinner together on the plane. They got off the plane in Bermuda in 75 degree weather and started their sightseeing trip first by staying at the Bermudian, and the Elbow Beach Surf club in Hamilton, Bermuda. They went sightseeing for two days by taxi, compliments of the development board of Bermuda, and visited many hotels; the Castle Harbor, Harmony Hall, the Princess, among them. They visited Gibbs Hill light house, in Southampton, Bermuda, built May 1, 1846, where they climbed to the top.

The toured Leamington 'cave' in the parish of Hamilton; Fort St. Catherine; the aquarium with all the tropical fish that surround the island; the Natural Arches, a formation of rocks on the island; and the perfume factory where they make perfume from the Passion flowers of the island which is normally in three colors, white, pink and violet. They also saw the Devils hole where fishing is done with bate but no hooks. They enjoyed bicycling about the island, and motor boating. They toured St. George hotel that is based entirely on the 17th century. All employed at the hotel are attired in that century style of clothing. The girls did much shopping there, where Betty did most of her Christmas shopping.

During their stay in Bermuda the SS Monarch, main ship from New York to Bermuda, docked, and they watched the procedure and took several pictures. In all they took 150 colored slides.

All the hotels there feature Calypso music which the girls enjoyed very much.

Before returning home Betty called upon her cousin Bruce Woodman at Columbia university. During her stay at the Prince George hotel in New York, her room was complimentary, an honor, due to the fact that there was a convention going on at that time, and hotel rooms were hard to get.

Christmas Tree Had Beginning In Religious Life of Germany

By Rev. F. X. Weiser
(Paulist Feature Service)

A miniature zoo hanging from a Christmas tree may be a striking sight, but actually is out of place there. Like many other Christmas symbols and customs, the Christmas tree has a deep and spiritual significance.

When and where did Christmas trees begin? Some say the Christmas tree comes from the ancient Yule tree and pagan fire customs. But this is mere guessing and doesn't fit the facts.

The Christmas tree is a combination of two religious symbols from medieval days, the Paradise tree and the Christmas light, and it began in Germany.

From the eleventh century on, religious plays used to be performed in church or outside in front of churches. One of the most popular of these "mystery plays" as they were called, was the Paradise play. It told of the creation of man, the sin of Adam and Eve, and their expulsion from Paradise. This play closed with the consoling promise of the coming Savior. For this reason the Paradise play was a favorite in Advent, the preparatory season for the coming Christ.

In the play the garden of Eden was indicated by a fir tree hung with apples, from which Eve broke the fruit and gave it to Adam to eat. This "Paradise tree" attracted the attention of all onlookers, especially the children, since it was the only object on the stage.

After a while the mystery plays stopped, but people wanted the Paradise tree and brought it into their homes on Dec. 24, the feast day in honor of Adam and Eve.

But Dec. 24 was also Christmas eve. From early times, a beautiful custom was practiced on this day in all Christian countries. A candle called the "Christmas light" was burned as a symbol for Jesus Christ, the light of the world that started shining at Bethlehem.

In Germany the Christmas candle used to be placed on top of a wooden pyramid-like structure, adorned with glass balls and tinsel. But soon the people noticed that the Paradise tree itself was a beautiful and live pyramid. The next step was to take the lights, glass balls and tinsel from the wooden pyramid and put them on the Paradise tree. The Christmas crib which had stood at the foot of the pyramid, was now put under the tree. The "star of Bethlehem" from the top of the pyramid was now fastened on the tree. Thus our modern Christmas tree was born.

Understanding the origin of the Christmas tree should give parents a chance to get in some religious teaching amidst all the Christmas preparations. No child should have to spend Christmas without learning the religious meaning of his Christmas tree, a reminder that Our Lord is his light and the Light of all the world.
